

BioValley Applied Science Morning

Wednesday, September 22, 2010

- 09.30 – 09.35 Welcome & Introduction
Dr. Thomas Hafen, BioValley Basel
Prof. Dr. Gerda Huber, FHNW, Muttenz
- 09.35 – 09.50 Amphiphilic Calixarenes: building blocks for the design of drug delivery Vehicles
Patrick Shahgaldian, FHNW, Muttenz
- 09.50 – 10.05 Environmental risk assessment of pharmaceuticals: the advantage of using molecular techniques
Karl Fent, FHNW, Muttenz
- 10.05 – 10.20 Novel process analytical tools for pharmaceutical dry milling
Martin Kuentz, FHNW, Muttenz
- 10.20 – 10.50 Coffee Break
- 10.50 – 11.05 NiTi-implants fabricated by selective laser melting
Michael deWild, FHNW, Muttenz
- 11.05 – 11.20 Too much data, not enough insights? Strategies from biomedical informatics
Dominique Brodbeck
- 11.20 – 11.35 INOFEA – Innovative nanomaterials for environmental applications, an ecopreneurship venture
Yves Dudal, FHNW, Muttenz
- 11.35 – 12.20 Panel discussion: Knowledge and Tech Transfer
Panelists:
- Prof. Oreste Ghisalba, KTI (Basel, CH)
- Dr. Herbert Reutimann, Unitecra (Zurich, CH)
- Prof. Daniel Gygax, Biotechnet (Basel, CH)
- Dr. Reto Naef, Novartis (Basel, CH) (moderation)
- 12.25 – 13.50 Lunch
Lunch is served in the MipTec exhibition area